

Electrify Your Audience

With Words of Excellence

Do you create magical moments for your audience of one or one thousand?
Do you understand the differences to protect your value and excel?

Leslie G. Ungar redefines how we communicate our value. Her competitive edge comes from the entrée she has into the executive world, the 2,500 presentations she has conducted, and the Time/Warner cable show she hosts.

Leslie breaks the mold of traditional keynote speakers. With her unique perspective, Leslie coaxes and challenges the audience to identify and communicate their competitive edge. Her message lingers bridging the gap between your present plateau and your performance potential.

"Leslie has an engaging energy that brings everyone into the fold. Her presentations are enhanced by the fact that she relates everything to timely topics, people and events, which is an effective tool in getting everyone to participate. Leslie simplifies the process and makes improvement a very attainable goal."

"As a leader in the "communicating value" movement, she helps her audience discover, define, and develop their hidden value and discuss it effectively to gain their competitive edge.

Leslie brings a unique voice to improving individual and company performance. She will generate ideas and strategies how to move your audience forward to compete successfully in their hyper-competitive world.

NOBODY DOES IT BETTER OR MAKES YOU BETTER THAN LESLIE UNGAR" SAYS LYNDA HIRSCH, NATIONALLY-SYNDICATED COLUMNIST AND TV GUEST.
